What is ABA therapy?

Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) is a scientific method focused on understanding and changing individual behaviors. We use evidence-based ABA strategies to identify and replace undesired behavior patterns with positive ones.

How can ABA help my child?

Our skilled team observes your child, taking note of their strengths and challenges. An individualized plan is prepared to address your child's areas for improvement.

Through fun and stimulating one-on-one sessions with a behavioral therapist, your child learns and practices new skills and tools, gains confidence and begins to taste success.

What are the goals of ABA Therapy?

The goals of ABA therapy are tailored to each individual's needs and are established through a comprehensive assessment, followed by a personalized treatment plan. Some of the main goals of ABA therapy include:

Greater independence in daily living skills, such as dressing and brushing teeth.

Improved expressive communication, including using more complex language and enhancing conversational skills.

Enhanced receptive communication skills, such as following requests and answering questions.

Improved social skills, including having conversations, sharing, taking turns, and understanding social cues.

Increased safety skills and awareness.
